All authors submitting papers to the Journal of the International Academy of Periodontology must be members of the International Academy of Periodontology. Academy membership can be obtained by completing the registration form at http://www.periodontology.org/register.aspx.

Manuscripts
Manuscripts must be submitted electronically via the online submission site https://mo4.periodontalcentral.com/jiap. This online process permits seamless and efficient submission, peer review and production processes. Authors can also track the status of their submitted manuscripts. Complete instructions for submitting a paper are provided below.

Please ensure the Journal’s Author Guidelines are followed particularly with regard to manuscript presentation, referencing, formatting and requirements for high quality figures.

Electronic submissions (required) written entirely in Microsoft Word (PC or Mac) will be accepted at the above e-mail address. All submissions must be written in English and will be subject to peer and editorial review.

Articles for publication will be considered under the following headings: original research, novel clinical case reports and review articles relevant to all aspects of periodontology and implantology. Articles must be original and may not be pending consideration or accepted for publication elsewhere, with the exception of presentation at a scientific meeting or conference. A statement of the relationship of the manuscript to any other submitted manuscript must be included with the submission of the manuscript. Research that involves studies on humans must conform to the Declaration of Helsinki of 1975, as revised in 2013, and the authors must indicate that the protocol was approved by their institutional review board.

Please ensure the Journal’s Author Guidelines are followed particularly with regard to manuscripts. Figure captions should be included in the text, and figures should be self-explanatory and supplement, not duplicate, the text. All footnotes should be self-explanatory and supplement, not duplicate, the text. All footnotes should immediately follow the table, and all abbreviations should be defined in the footnotes.

Please ensure the Journal’s Author Guidelines are followed particularly with regard to manuscripts. Acknowledgments and conflict of interest should be included with the submission of the manuscript. Research that involves studies on animals must conform to the guidelines approved by the Council of the American Psychological Association (1980) for the use of animals in experiments.

Endnote Style for JAP
Generously provided by Érica Dorigatti de Avila from the Department of Dental Materials and Prosthodontics, School of Dentistry at Araquara, Universidade Estadual Paulista - UNESP, Araquara, São Paulo, Brazil. The file should be placed in the Styles folder inside the Endnote application folder.

Endnote Style can be downloaded from the JAP Website at https://www.periodontology.org/publications

Tables
Each table must be submitted on a separate sheet of paper, double-spaced throughout, including column heads, footnotes, and data. They should be numbered with arabic numerals according to their order of mention in the text. Tables should be self-explanatory and supplement, not duplicate. All footnotes should immediately follow the table, and all abbreviations should be defined in the footnotes.

Illustrations
Illustrations should be numbered with arabic numerals according to their order of mention in the text. They may be submitted in color or black and white. In general, the Editor will require that clinical photographs and stained histologic specimens be submitted and published in color. Figures should be submitted electronically in jpeg format as separate files and not pasted into the Microsoft Word document.

Figure legends
All illustrations should be listed by legend on a separate page, double-spaced, and numbered to correspond with the numbering in the text.

Permissions
Direct requests for permissions, tables, and illustrations that have appeared in copyrighted mate-rial must be accompanied by written permission from the copyright owner, along with complete information as to the source. Photographs of identifiable persons must be accompanied by signed releases showing informed consent. If an illustration is taken from previously published material, the legend must give full credit to the original source.

Statements and opinions expressed in the articles and communications herein are those of the author(s) and not necessarily those of the Editor(s) or publisher, and the Editor(s) and publisher disclaim any responsibility or liability for such material. Authors must disclaim to the Editor any financial interest they may have in products mentioned in their article.

The Journal will endeavor to provide a decision to the authors within 16 weeks of receipt of the properly formatted paper at the editorial office. Authors should read and follow the reference format required by the Journal. Manuscripts submitted for review that do not follow these instructions may be delayed until corrected or returned for outright review.
